Newport, R.I. – Newport Exhibition Group, owners and producers of the Newport International Boat Show, announced today the J/121, presented by J/Boats Inc, was named the 2017 Newport International Boat Show Newport For New Products™ (NFNP) award winner for Best New Sailboat. The NFNP Awards are a highlight of the industry and are open to domestic and foreign products launched in the U.S. after April 1, 2017 that made their boat show debut at Newport. Judged on Thursday during the opening day of the Show, the J/121 was selected by a team of industry experts on the basis of innovation, value to the consumer, safety and aesthetics.

On selecting the J/121, expert comments included: “This is the best sailboat designed for the best sailing experience. The J/121 is truly innovative. J/Boats built a boat capable of long distance races without the need of having a large crew. They brought together a lot of existing features and capabilities in a new way to make it as user-friendly as possible. The aesthetics come across in its design and ergonomics, it is a sharp looking boat.”
